

arc rae

arc rae is a French-born musician currently based in Berlin.

His music blends acoustic and electronic textures, balancing generative soundscapes, precise motifs, and intricate beats to create rhythmic yet fluid compositions.

Since 2019, he has been releasing music through the Las Vegas-based label Mystery Circles, gradually shaping a distinct sonic identity rooted in subtle complexity and emotional depth.

His latest release New Moon (February 25, 2025) continues to explore the interplay of electronic and analog sounds, drawing on ambient, jazz, and experimental influences to craft richly textured and rhythmically nuanced music. This album reflects a refined evolution in his practice, offering a sense of clarity and openness that contrasts with the darker tones of his earlier work.

This Is Fine

“ ... nestled among the jazzy chords are a delicate array of clicks, clacks, scrapes, dings, pings, zips, zaps and more, all of which arc rae appears to have pieced together with the precision of a master watchmaker.

That said, there's nothing rigid or overly mechanical about the music on hand; LP highlight “Taiko” cruises along with an almost weightless ease, its twinkling melodies and crinkling static holding court as various plinks and plops blink in and out of existence.

In live performances, arc rae weaves spontaneous sound collages using modular synths, guitar, and a variety of tactile sound sources such as contact and electromagnetic mics, field recordings, vocals, percussive objects, etc.

Each set unfolds as a unique improvisation, yet is bound by evolving textures, melodic motifs, and gentle rhythmic pulses that create an immersive and fluid sonic landscape.
